Acknowledgement

At the outset, I offer my veneration to the Supreme Lord for enabling me to accomplish this small but significant task.

Thereafter I pay obeisance to the tradition of ṛṣis, ācāryas and scholars who have explored and expounded the rich treasure of Vedic knowledge. Due credit must be given to the stimulus provided by the infinite quest of young students who have not only prompted me to prepare this compilation but will also be its prospective readers. I convey my sincere appreciation to two of my research scholars, Dr Renu K. Sharma and Dr Devendra Singh, for typesetting and structuring the whole manuscript. The book would not have been possible without their unflinching help.

I am extremely obliged to Prof. Satya Vrat Shastri for his kind Foreword which has definitely enhanced the value of the book. I owe special thanks to Prof. Radhavallabh Tripathi, Former Vice-Chancellor of Rashtriya Sanskrit Sansthan, New Delhi, for facilitating publication of this book. I express sincere gratitude to Prof. A.P. Sacchidananda, Vice-Chancellor of Rashtriya Sanskrit Sansthan for providing his valuable inputs by writing a few words about the book.

My family and friends have encouraged me with their constant support which is invaluable for any assignment of this nature. Let me not forget to mention the keen interest of Shri Susheel K. Mittal of D.K. Printworld and thank him for taking pains and producing this book in an attractive format.

अक्षण्वन्तः कर्णवन्तः सखायः
मनोजवेष्वसमा बभूवुः ।
(ऋ. १०.७१.७)

akṣaṇvantah karṇavantah sakhāyah
manojaveṣvasamā babhūvuh ।
(RV 10.71.7)

(समान रूप से) आँखों वाले, कानों वाले, समान ज्ञान ग्रहण करने की सामर्थ्य वाले मित्र भी मन की गति में एक समान नहीं होते ।

There are friends equally possessing eyes and others possessing ears; And yet they are unequal in mental apprehension.

अक्षैर्मा दीव्यः कृषिमित् कृषस्व ।
(ऋ. १०.३४.१३)

akṣairmā dīvyah kṛṣimit kṛṣasva ।
(RV 10.34.13)

(हे मनुष्य!) कभी भी जुआ नहीं खेलना; तू परिश्रम से खेती कर ।

(O man,) play not with dice, better cultivate your farm land.
